

Hong Kong and Israel Jointly Launch a New R&D Cooperation Programme

Companies from Hong Kong and Israel are welcome to submit applications for financial support for Bilateral Industrial R&D projects under the HK-IL R&D Cooperation Programme

The Hong Kong-Israel R&D Cooperation Programme was established with the goal of promoting industrial R&D cooperation between Hong Kong and Israel, and enabling Hong Kong and Israeli companies that are engaged in R&D collaboration to access government funding for their joint R&D projects.

Hong Kong and Israeli companies are welcome to submit proposals for funding for bilateral industrial research and development (R&D) projects, involving at least one company from each economy, which include science and technology (S&T) development which may lead to commercialisation, social good and benefit to both economies.

The HK-IL R&D Cooperation Program is open to all technology sectors. Applications under the HK-IL R&D Cooperation Programme can be submitted all year round.

CRITERIA

In order to apply, joint projects must meet the following criteria:

- ☒ At least one science and technology company from the respective economies, fulfilling the eligibility criteria mentioned below, should express a wish to cooperate in the research and development of a new product or a new process.
- ☒ The project may involve more than one company from each side.
- ☒ Academic/Research entities are eligible to join as sub-contractors only .
- ☒ The product should be highly innovative with significant commercial potential. The joint industrial R&D project should aim at the development of products/processes leading to commercialisation in the global market .
- ☒ Companies and projects from all technology fields are eligible to apply.
- ☒ The project partners should agree in advance on the IP rights and on the commercialisation strategy of the product or process in accordance to relevant IPR requirements under the respective government funding schemes.
- ☒ The project should demonstrate the contribution of the participants from both economies
- ☒ The project should be balanced between participants and significant to both partners.
- ☒ The maximum project period is two years subject to the rules of the respective government funding schemes.
